Research Scholarships – 11th Grade

You know your student the best, so the following talking points are simply a guideline to use in starting a conversation with your 11th grader about researching the types of scholarships that might be available for the education or training program being pursued after high school.

- ▶ The time it takes to apply for scholarships really pays off. For example, if you spend one hour applying for a $500 scholarship, and you receive it, you made more money in that hour than you could earn at any job.
- ▶ I will help you look for scholarships through employers, clubs, associations, etc.
- ▶ Talk to your school counselors about scholarship lists they have.
- ▶ Let's check out the financial aid website of the colleges you're considering and see what academic awards you might be eligible to receive next year.
